Looking for Credit is made up of consumers who have been at credit risk in the past. Having bad debt or being a slow payer has not stopped these consumers from trying to improve their credit status. They are excellent targets for secured credit cards, loans, bank debt consolidation offers and financial information and services. Our lists compile information from publicly available sources of property, tax and bankruptcy data along with demographic information and model scores to allow marketers to pinpoint the right prospects.

Combining the models with specific demographic selections allows you to effectively target your prospect while increasing your response.

Suggested Usage:

Any credit/financial offer, Pre-paid Credit Cards, Opportunity Offers, Mortgage and Refinancing Services, Debt Consolidation.
